

Door 3 — music production and studio craft, every European option in one file

Making records: production, studio practice, mixing, mastering, Tonmeister, sound direction, popular-music production, beat-making, DJ and electronic production.

Not electroacoustic composition, sound art, installation or sonology — those are Door 1 and live in `ARTIST-ROUTE.xlsx`.

Everything this project collected across every earlier sweep, merged with the new Door-3 campaign. Nothing was searched twice.

Records	205
Real master's degrees	129
Sold as a master but not a degree	72
Award unclear — ask before applying	4
Reachable without a performance audition	124 of 129
Strong chance and cheap and no audition	13
Free or under €5,000/yr	41
Fully funded	13
Re-verified so far	29 — 0 worth it · 9 conditional · 20 avoid

Spread across 25 countries: United Kingdom 34 · Germany 16 · Belgium 9 · Bulgaria 8 · France 8 · Czech Republic 7 · Netherlands 6 · Austria, Ireland, Italy, Spain 5 each · Turkey 4 · Serbia 3 · and one or two each in Portugal, Sweden, Poland, Hungary, Romania, Denmark, Estonia, Finland, Iceland, Lithuania, Norway, Greece.

The thing to understand before reading the list

A practical production test is not an audition.

Door 3 programmes gate in three different ways, and they are not equally hard for you:

Gate	What it means	Can you pass it?
Portfolio	Submit 2–4 finished tracks	Yes — this is a twelve-month build
Production test	"Here is raw material, make a production"	Yes — this is the job, not a barrier
Ear-training / performance audition	Play an instrument, identify intervals, sight-read	No — this needs conservatoire training

That third gate is what separates the German Tonmeister degrees from everything else. Detmold, Düsseldorf, Babelsberg and FAMU are all free, and all of them are rated Weak for you — not because of money or language, but because a Tonmeister course is built on top of a musical education you don't have.

Only 5 of 129 demand a performance audition outright. The rest are reachable.

The 13 that are a strong chance, cheap, and need no audition

Programme	Where	Cost to you	Gate
İTÜ MIAM — Sound Engineering & Design	Istanbul	Under €1.5k/yr	Portfolio + interview
KASK Gent — Master of Music, Music Production	Ghent	Under €1.5k/yr (see fee note)	Portfolio + orientation test
IAD — Master en Son (Son Studio / Son Direct)	Louvain-la-Neuve	Under €1.5k–5k/yr (see fee note)	Portfolio
FH Salzburg — MultiMediaArt, AUDIO specialisation	Salzburg	Under €1.5k/yr	Portfolio + interview
Le Fresnoy — Studio national	Tourcoing	Under €1.5k/yr	Portfolio + interview
Saint Louis College of Music — Music Production, II livello	Rome	€1.5k–5k/yr	Portfolio only
Aix-Marseille — Cinéma et Audiovisuel, parcours son	Marseille	€1.5k–5k/yr	Interview only
Lyon 2 — Musicologie, parcours MAAAV	Lyon	€1.5k–5k/yr	Portfolio + interview
UPHF Valenciennes — Audiovisuel, médias interactifs	Valenciennes	€1.5k–5k/yr	Interview only
Filmakademie Baden-Württemberg — Filmton / Sounddesign	Ludwigsburg	€1.5k–5k/yr	Exam / interview
Metropolitan Belgrade — Muzička produkcija	Belgrade	€1.5k–5k/yr	Portfolio + interview

Two of these carry a fee correction that has not yet been applied to the cost column. Belgium's non-EEA rates are now known and they are much higher than the recorded band: IAD and every Wallonian institution charge €5,369/yr (€1,194 + a €4,175 supplement), and KASK Gent charges €8,800/yr. Tunisia is not on the ARES exemption list. Treat both as mid-cost, not cheap — unless you win a WBI bursary, which waives the supplement and funds you, and is the single highest-value Belgian application available to you.

The free ones, and why most of them are still closed

Thirteen European Door-3 degrees cost you nothing. Only three are a realistic chance:

Possible for you - HfMT Köln — Production (M.Mus.) — €0, German A2, portfolio is two audio files from the last two years plus documentation of your working method. The entrance test is "candidates receive raw material and must create a production." The single best free option in this door. - HAW Hamburg — Zeitabhängige Medien / Sound-Vision (M.A.) — €0, German, project-centred study across sound and moving image. - Filmuniversität Babelsberg — M.A. Tonmeister für audiovisuelle Medien — €0, German.

Free but rated Weak — the Tonmeister wall Detmold (Erich-Thienhaus-Institut, four separate records), Robert Schumann Düsseldorf, Babelsberg's other sound tracks, and FAMU Prague. These are excellent, famous, free — and every one of them assumes instrumental ability and ear training. They are the reason "free" is not the same as "reachable."

What is verified so far

Only 29 of 205 have been re-opened on official pages. 0 worth it, 9 conditional, 20 avoid.

The nine conditional ones are FH Salzburg, ITÜ MIAM Sound Engineering & Design, ReSound (recorded four times — it is one programme and one application), Saint Louis Rome, and KASK Gent. Each is real but has something to settle first; the workbook's column F names it per row.

The remaining 176 records have not been re-checked. Treat them as leads, not findings. That is the biggest single gap in this file and it is the next thing to close.

The 72 that are not degrees

More than a third of everything sold as a master's in this door is not one — the highest proportion of any field this project has searched. Door 3 is where the private audio-school market lives.

The pattern by country: Netherlands — Abbey Road Institute Amsterdam, SAE Amsterdam, DJ School Amsterdam, Dutch Dance Music Academy, Herman Brood Academie, Master The Mix, Music Production Academy, Pro Audio Education NL, Sound Education Nederland. Spain — Microfusa, CEV, CICE, Aula Creativa, Point Blank Ibiza, SAE Spain, and título propio programmes at TAI, UCAM and Francisco de Vitoria. Italy — Accademia del Suono, SAE Milano, Scuola Mohole, and IULM's Master di I livello. Portugal — ETIC, Restart, DJEM, EMMA. UK — the validation chain needs checking programme by programme, because dBs, SAE, Point Blank, ICMP, ACM and Thinkspace all award through a partner university and the award is only as real as that partner.

They are all on the NOT a degree — avoid tab with the reason for each. Read it before you pay anyone.

Money, by country

Where	What you pay	Note
Germany	€0 in most states	The catch is the Tonmeister ear-training gate, not the fee
Turkey	~€1,000/yr	Plus Türkiye Bursları — fully funded, under-30, arts window 10 Jan – 20 Feb
Italy	Low after ISEE parificato ; regional DSU worth €7,171/yr to a fuori sede student	Resident abroad you cannot compute an ISEE and pay the top band in year one
France	€3,941/yr differentiated	Unless it is a Ministry of Culture school. Campus France Tunisie closes ~15 January 2027
Belgium — Wallonia	€5,369/yr	Decree-set, identical everywhere. Tunisia not exempt. WBI bursary waives it
Belgium — Flanders	KASK €8,800 · LUCA €9,824 · KC Brussel €17,501 · KC Antwerpen €25,000	Flanders removed non-EEA students from basic financing
Czechia	€0 if taught in Czech	Free to every nationality
Bulgaria	€5,522–€8,500/yr	The domestic rate does not apply to you
Norway / Finland	NOK 135,000–401,704 · Uniarts €28,000	Norway now charges everywhere; no covering scholarship
UK	£15,000–£30,000	Chevening is closed to you — it needs two years' post-degree work experience, and GREAT and Commonwealth both exclude Tunisia

What is still unfinished — stated plainly

The deep Door-3 campaign was cut short. Eight agents were launched; all eight hit the account's session limit within minutes of each other, and only 15 new records were written before they died. This document therefore rests mostly on what earlier sweeps had already collected.

What the 15 new records did add, all worth following up: - Popakademie Baden-Württemberg — Popular Music M.A. with a Producing concentration - FH Dortmund — Creative Audio Director M.A. - KUG Graz with TU Graz — Elektrotechnik-Toningenieur (the engineering route into Tonmeister work) - Politecnico di Milano — MSc Music and Acoustic Engineering, taught in English - Three more Italian conservatoire Tecnico del Suono biennios — Bolzano, Frosinone, Monopoli - Berklee Valencia's scholarship ladder — Groove up to 90% of tuition, Diversity up to 50%, Global Partners and Alumni $18,000 each - AFAC Music Grant (up to $25,000), Mophradat Grants for Artists' Practice, Roberto Cimetta mobility grants — Arab-world funding open to a Tunisian

Still to search: Switzerland entirely · ~50 Italian conservatoires · the Spanish conservatorios superiores · France's écoles and 20 universities · the Netherlands beyond the private schools · the Nordics and Baltics, where only 8 records exist across eight countries · Poland's and Croatia's academies · ten more Turkish universities. Plus the production-specific funding: industry schemes (PRS, Help Musicians, SACEM, CNM, GEMA), manufacturer awards (AES, SSL, Genelec, Dolby) and institution-level fee waivers.

Still to verify: 176 of 205 records.

None of that is lost — it is queued, and the agents are told exactly which institutions not to re-search. No figure in this file was invented to fill a gap; anything unconfirmed reads `UNVERIFIED` in the workbook.

What to do with this now

1. Build the portfolio — two to four finished tracks. HfMT Köln asks for exactly two. Saint Louis asks for a portfolio and nothing else. This unlocks almost every row in the file.
2. İTÜ MIAM Sound Engineering & Design is the best-value verified option: ~€1,000/yr, English, and Türkiye Bursları can make it free. Its window is 10 January – 20 February. Note its portfolio wants three mixes each containing an acoustically miked source — you would need to record something real, not only produce in the box. Start planning that now.
3. Email HfMT Köln — `jonathan.podmore@hfmt-koeln.de` — and ask whether a BSc Software Engineering counts as an "affine subject." That one answer decides your best free option.
4. If Belgium interests you, apply for a WBI bursary first. The programmes are good; the €5,369 supplement is what makes or breaks them.