

What they actually ask for

46 of the 179 usable programmes are portfolio- or audition-gated. 24 are genuinely open to you; 22 are closed for reasons that have nothing to do with your portfolio, and are listed second so you do not build work for a door that is already shut.

The reassuring finding: almost nothing here needs finished music of the kind you do not yet have. The programmes that would have demanded a mature body of work — UdK's Tonmeister, the conservatoire performance routes — are closed to you on credential grounds anyway, and Tonmeister additionally requires an audiogram proving hearing across 125 Hz–8 kHz. What the open programmes want is three pieces, described well, plus short video and a study plan.

Open to you — build for these

The minimal portfolio that satisfies the most programmes

Built from the overlap above. Six artefacts cover every open gate in the table on page 1.

ARTEFACT	WHICH PROGRAMMES IT SATISFIES, AND WHY
Three finished pieces ≤20 min total runtime	The single most repeated ask in the dataset. UdK caps a portfolio at five samples and 20 minutes; Amsterdam wants three stereo recordings; UCM wants three original compositions; Babelsberg wants three films. Three strong pieces inside 20 minutes satisfies all of them at once.
A one-page context sheet per piece title · genre · year · context · your exact role	UdK demands an information document per sample; Berklee MPTI demands role descriptions; ESCAC wants a project list. Writing it once per piece covers every one of them, and it is the part engineers habitually skip.
A 60-second video pitch a business idea, self-produced	Berklee GEMB's entire gate. Not an audition — a pitch. Reuse the framing for BIMM's interview.
A 3-minute project pitch video three thesis projects you would pursue	Berklee MPTI asks for exactly this; ESCAC asks for a 3-minute videopitch; MULTICOM asks for 90 seconds on motivation. One recording, three cuts.
A two-page study plan / research proposal problem · method · why you	Sonology requires a two-page structured study plan; TU Berlin's double degree requires a research project proposal; HKU requires a study plan. This is where your engineering wins the argument.
An artistic CV releases, tools built, technical credits	Distinct from the academic CV. Barcelona's Art Sonor selects on it explicitly.

Month by month to the binding deadline

Sept 2026

Decide the three pieces

Oct 2026

Piece 1 finished + context sheet

Nov 2026

Piece 2 + the two-page study plan

Dec 2026

Piece 3 + both pitch videos

Early Jan 2027

Assemble and submit

MONTH	MILESTONE	WHY THIS ORDER
Sept 2026	Decide the three pieces	Pick works that show range, not volume: one composed, one sound-designed to picture, one built with a tool you wrote. That third one is your differentiator and nobody else in the pile has it.
Oct 2026	Piece 1 finished + context sheet	Finish one completely rather than starting three. A finished piece with a written role description is worth more than three sketches.
Nov 2026	Piece 2 + the two-page study plan	Draft the study plan now, while the work is fresh — it is the document that turns a portfolio into an application.
Dec 2026	Piece 3 + both pitch videos	Record once, cut to 60 seconds and 3 minutes. Self-produced is fine; Berklee asks for self-produced.
Early Jan 2027	Assemble and submit	The binding deadline is the Netherlands Film Academy at 2027-01-12, 12:00 CET. Everything else on this path falls later.

One caution. Every deadline on page 1 marked unconfirmed for 2027 is last cycle's date, kept for planning. Confirm each before you pace the work to it — and note that the binding one, the Netherlands Film Academy at 2027-01-12 12:00 CET, is confirmed.
